Welcome to Kloster Vébra

In the preland of the Thuringian Forest at the confluence of the rivers Schleuse and Werra lies the former monastery of “Praemonstratenser-Chorherrenstift” Vébra. Well preserved in its structure, it now houses the Hennebergian Museum of Kloster Vébra.

The museum is dedicated to historical research and the presentation of the former monastery and its surrounding county of the Earls of Henneberg. It further explores the folklore of the region in the South of Thuringia.

Throughout the centuries, this area – surrounded by the mountain tops of the Thuringian Forest, the mountains of the Rhoen and the region of the Grabfeld – has developed its own distinguishable historical and cultural life.

The mission of the Hennebergisches Museum of Kloster Vébra is to record and explore its cultural identity. Moreover, it aims at making it accessible to the general population and keeping it alive as part of the many sided cultural landscape in the heart of Germany.

Every year in the Hennebergian Museum Kloster Vébra take place different festivals and events:
- museumfestivals with different topics in may
